Want to make the business side of dentistry worry free and fun?
Ready to feel the joy in your practice again?

It all starts with you.

As business owners, we must be leaders and innovators. Our team need be comprised of managers, producers, cheerleaders, and cultivators. We can't do it all by ourselves. The success of any business correlates directly to the strength and cohesive nature of its team.

As a practicing dentist for nearly 20 years, Dr. Pam Marzban knows the responsibilities and the energy it takes to run a successful business day to day. In this high energy, interactive presentation, Pam shares tips and techniques for creating your poignant, clearly defined vision and determining strategic goals for your professional and personal life.

Clear direction and effective delegation are essential to achieving goals. Your team is an extension of who you are professionally; they must reflect your values and mission. Learn how to find and hire team members that are the right fit and passionate about your vision. Sharpen your delegation skills to increase production, make you a better dentist and leader, and create a more successful practice.
